Familial hypercholesterolaemia (FH) is a genetic disorder in which high levels of cholesterol are associated with early onset of cardiovascular disease, including coronary artery disease. Because there are no commercial tests available in Mexico to screen for FH, patients are frequently given lipid-lowering therapy without being diagnosed. We performed a retrospective study of 17 patients (10 males, 7 females), 11 of whom have been given life-long lipid-lowering therapy due to high levels of total cholesterol. Mean age was 31 years, mean cholesterol levels were as high as 417 mg/dL, and mean triglyceride levels were as high as 1,252 mg/dL. Mean low density lipoprotein cholesterol level was as high as 230 mg/dL. Of the total of 17 patients (mean total cholesterol = 412.4 mg/dL; mean low density lipoprotein cholesterol = 220.2 mg/dL), 14 (82.4%) had clinical disease, with a mean cholesterol level of 427 mg/dL and a mean low density lipoprotein cholesterol level of 292 mg/dL. There is a high prevalence of familial hypercholesterolaemia in Mexico. Treatment of FH should be pursued aggressively to prevent morbidity and mortality. There is a need for an effective screening test for FH. We are a friendly and fun group of 20 year olds. We enjoy spending time together, going out to local bars and restaurants with friends, and having a good time. We also enjoy spending time with our family and friends. We are looking for someone who shares our ideas, likes to have fun, is positive and can hang out with us when we want some down time as well as if we want to go out and have a good time. We are looking for someone who knows their own mind and is not afraid to ask questions. We're pretty laid back so lets talk and see what happens. This way we don't get hurt. :) Get to know us First, I'm Libby and I'm just finishing my senior year in college. I'm studying sports management at Fort Valley State.
