1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a mounting structure for a female terminal for an automotive battery, and more particularly, to a female terminal mounting structure used for a battery assembly for a vehicle, which is installed to a vehicle body side.

2. Description of the Related Art There is known an automotive battery, which is mounted to a vehicle body side through a vehicle body fixing portion or the like. For example, a battery is disclosed in Japanese Unexamined Patent Publication No. 8-128446, in which a positive terminal is connected to a vehicle body side, and a negative terminal is connected to an electrode plate of a positive electrode. In the battery disclosed in the above-mentioned publication, the positive terminal and the negative terminal are separately fixed to a vehicle body side. There is, however, a problem in that the terminal having a large weight is fixed to the vehicle body side, and is therefore difficult to handle. Further, in order to improve the operability of the battery, it is desirable that the positive terminal and the negative terminal are fixed to the vehicle body side in a manner that they are integrated with each other. However, as described above, the positive terminal and the negative terminal are fixed to the vehicle body side separately, and therefore, it is difficult to install the battery in a manner that the positive terminal and the negative terminal are integrated with each other. Roadtrips! Beer! & College Football! Roadtrips! Beer! & College Football! I'm proud to announce that I'm doing this again. If you missed the first attempt this fall, I
